

TOO LATE SAYS RUSSIA TO TURKEY'S APOLOGY AND BEGINS FIGHTING

TRANS-CAUCASIAN ARMY SENT AGAINST TURKISH FRONTIER IN FORMAL OPENING OF WAR ON TURK.

ARABIAN PORT TAKEN

British Cruiser Minerva Shells
City of Akabah on Red Sea
Near Suez Canal — War on Turkey Now Becomes A Reality.

The apology of the Turk for the assault of his fleet on port of the Black Sea has not accomplished its purpose. Both Russia and Great Britain have undertaken active military measures against him and hostilities have begun on the Red Sea.

In France the troops of Emperor William frustrated in their persistent endeavors to advance along the coast, are now seeking a route more to the south and ending in Flanders is going on a determination on the part of the allies and heavy onslaughts from the enemy.

A group of incidents shows that Turkey's efforts to hold aloft from the war came too late. Constantinople reported officially that Russian troops have attacked her frontier in the Caucasus at several points, but were driven back.

A British cruiser has shelled and occupied the Turkish fortified town of Akabah on the Red Sea in Arabia.

It is announced in a news dispatch that Czar Nicholas has ordered his Caucasian army to cross the frontier and attack the Turks.

The Turkish ambassador has left the Russian capital. The Russian foreign minister has replied to the Porte that negotiations are now impossible and that an imperial manifesto issued in Petrograd says that Russian confidence is firm that intervention of Turkey will only hasten the fatal issue to that empire, and that Russia will now find a way to settle the Black Sea problem handed down to her by previous rulers.

Flanders still shows a continuance of hard fighting, always attended with heavy losses on both sides.

The French official announcement given out in Paris this afternoon said that the Germans evidently had abandoned the left bank of the Yser below Dixmude and that allies had taken possession of points on the river where crossings would be made.

The French reports bear news dispatches that the Germans are seeking a route through the allied line further to the south than any they have attempted in the past few weeks.

Lord Kitchener, the British secretary of War, was in Dunkirk Sunday night, doubtless for the purpose of supervising the operation of the allied forces. He crossed from England and was in conference with President Poincare of France, and M. De Brocqueville, the prime minister of Belgium.

The Germans last Sunday, according to news dispatches made supreme by unsuccessful effort to capture Ypres. Lives without number were sacrificed in an endeavor which apparently resulted in failure, but today they are said to be concentrating their efforts well to the south of this battle-scarred locality.

Emperor William himself was present, according to news dispatches at the latest attempt to capture this important position. German forces have left Bruges for Courtrai, 25 miles to the south and 13 miles east of Ypres where the British hold the line. This is taken to indicate the selection of another way to reach Calais.

TURK WAR MINISTER

Enver Pasha.

Enver Pasha, Turkish war minister, is said to have the upper hand in the affairs of his country just now. To him more than to anyone else in Turkey is due the entrance of the Ottoman Empire into the European war.

Basing its hope that the allies will be able to continue to hold back the German advance in the north no matter how determined and furious it becomes France is still optimistic as to the outcome in Flanders.

A wounded man was brought recently to the imperial palace at Strassbourg and medical experts from Berlin were summoned to attend him. The rumor soon got abroad that he patient was Frederick William, crown prince of Germany. These reports have not been verified, but passengers reaching Geneva from Strassbourg declare them to be true. The patient in the palace is said to be seriously, but not mortally hurt. The German crown prince has not been heard of directly and authoritatively for some weeks. He met his wife at Luxembourg October 10, and twenty days later he was reported as having been wounded before Verdun.

President Poincare of France King Albert of Belgium, have reviewed French and Belgian troops at Farnas, and close to the line of battle in Flanders, to an accompaniment of exploding shrapnel from the artillery of the enemy.

The North Sea has been entirely closed to shipping. All vessels must now go through the English Channel. Americans and friendly aliens may not board steamers this coming Thursday from Queenstown. They must instead go to Liverpool. This may be an indication that the British authorities contemplate closing the southern entrance to the Irish Sea.

The German government is ready that the world at large should know how it is caring for its prisoners of war. Convinced that prisoners are well treated the authorities are giving facilities to American and other neutral countries to visit the internment camps. The American representatives are making reports to Washington.

Mobilization is closing the Netherlands' government $400,000 a day. This constitutes a heavy drain on the resources of the government to meet which it has been decided to leave an export tax on all products now selling in the country at exorbitant prices.

The Mohammedans of Beluchistan, at a meeting held at Quetta in India, have informed the British government that it can rely on their fidelity.

past twelve hours show that the grand vizier of Turkey, has made every effort to conciliate the entente powers, but the influence of his party in the Turkish cabinet is not believed to be great enough to enforce support to meet the demand for reparations formulated in the French and British notes.

Arabian Town Occupied.

The fortified town of Akabah in Arabia, on an arm of the Red Sea, has been shelled by the British cruiser Minerva, and occupied.

There was some loss to the troops holding the position, but no British casualties.

Akabah is at the head of the Gulf of Akabah, 150 miles east of Suez.

The admiralty announces the occurrence as follows:

"On arriving at Akabah the cruiser Minerva, with Captain Percival Wleigh, found the place occupied by soldiers and armed natives. A German officer had the appearance of a German officer.

"The Minerva then shelled the forts and the town, and the town was evacuated, and a landing party from the Minerva proceeded to destroy the forts, the barracks, the postoffice and the stores.

"There was some loss to the enemy, but no British casualties.

Put Blame On Germany.

London, Nov. 3.—His Highness Aga Khan, who is known as the spiritual head of Mohammedans in India, East Africa, and Central Asia, has sent a cablegram from London addressed to the Moslems in India and other British dominions in which he expressed his deep sorrow that Turkey has joined hands with Germany in the war.

In this message Aga Khan says:

"This is not the free will of the Sultan, but the will of the German officers and other non-Moslems who have forced him to do their bidding."

He declares further that Turkey has now lost her position as the trustee of Islam. She has drawn her sword in an unholy cause and the duty of Moslems today is to remain loyal and faithful to their temporal and secular allegiance.

Martial Law In Egypt.

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 3.—All Egypt from today is placed under martial law. The British general Sir John Grenfell, commanding the forces in Egypt, has published a proclamation to the effect that the British government has ordered him to take military control of Egypt and to insure protection.

Anti-British Sentiment.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Matthei, published in Rome, says it has received reports from Egypt to the effect that the sentiment of the local troops in Egypt is sympathetic toward the Turks.

Reports reaching Berlin from Athens declare that 15,000 Turkish troops already were in Egypt and that the Turkish soldiers marching against Russia are alleged to number 300,000.

The foregoing information was given to the press in Berlin today.

Greek Vessel Destroyed.

According to information given out to the press in Berlin today, British troops have sent a Greek torpedo boat to the bottom, mistaking her for a Turkish ship. This incident occurred near Tondos.

The German submarine which destroyed the British cruiser Hermes last Saturday, has returned safely to its base of operation.

Caucasian Troops Ordered.

London, Nov. 3.—A dispatch from Tiflis, capital of the Russian government province of the same name in Trans-Caucasia, to Reuter Telegram company says:

"It is announced that the emperor has ordered the Caucasian army to cross the frontier and attack the Turks."

Deny Persian Alliance.

Petrograd, Nov. 3.—The Persian legation here declares that no alliance exists between Persia and Turkey. Rumors of such an alliance in the Russian and foreign press, it is stated, are without foundation.

Attack Turkish Frontier.

Constantinople, Nov. 3.—An official communication was given out in Constantinople today as follows:

"According to official reports from the Caucasian front, Russian troops have attacked our frontier forts at several points, but were compelled to retreat."

"The Russians suffered losses through the energetic resistance of the Turkish troops."

No Movement on Tripoli.

Indian Mohammedans Loyal.

REPUBLICANS LEAD IN FIRST RETURNS OF ELECTION TODAY

First Massachusetts Precinct Swings From Progressive to G. O. P. Column by Decisive Margin.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Boston, Nov. 3.—The first Massachusetts towns to be heard from in the election today was Norwell, which gave:

"For governor—McCall, republican, 184; Walker, progressive, 17; Walsh, democrat, 56."

The same town in 1913 gave: Bird, progressive, 93; Gardner, republican, 71; Walsh, democrat, 57.

HOT SENATORIAL FIGHT INTERESTS PENNSYLVANIA.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 3.—Boise Penrose, Republican, and Mitchell Palmer, Democrat, Gifford Pinchot, Washingtonian.

These are the nominees for which a million voters in Pennsylvania were called to vote today in the first direct election of United States senators in this state. And the tariff was the issue.

Other things were in the respective platforms of the two parties, but, in course, but the candidates rarely, if ever, touched upon them throughout the campaign. The voters have forgotten about them. Denunciation of the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill has been the Penrose-Whitely. Denunciation of Penrose and his tariff bill has been the Palmer-Pinchot. The latter has consistently marked the address of the Democratic nominee. And Pinchot has, with Rooseveltian vigor, denounced both Penrose and the Wilson-Underwood bill.

Besides a United States senator, Pennsylvanians were to elect congressmen from many districts and at large, governor, lieutenant governor, state cabinet so far as elective and members of the state senate and house of representatives.

Martin C. Brumbaugh, Republican, and Vance McCormick, fusion candidate of the Democratic and Washingtonians, were the acknowledged contenders for the gubernatorial office. There were other nominees, but William Draper Lewis, most formidable of them, withdrew as the Washington party nominee in favor of McCormick and only because of neglect to withdraw from the Roosevelt Progressive party, which also nominated him.

Local option was considered the main issue in the gubernatorial fight. Both candidates came out flatly in favor of it early in the campaign. Both pledged themselves to the cause and a sufficient annual apportionment of natural resources and to certain reforms in administrative offices.

In the senatorial fight, Penrose and Palmer, both of whom are strong in the cities of the state, Palmer and McCormick looked to the smaller towns and the agricultural districts for support. Palmer expected the support of Progressive and Independent Republicans.

AMENDMENTS AROUSE INTEREST IN TEXAS.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 3.—A victory for the Democratic state candidate, for the two Democratic candidates for congressmen-at-large and in the sixteen Congressional districts was the only expected result in today's election. The certainty of an overwhelming Democratic victory, which always brings out a light vote in state elections, was slightly offset today by balloting on three proposed amendments to the state constitution, including one for a referendum for the initiative and referendum.

This amendment, ordinarily likely to pass, seemed doomed to defeat today, owing to the opposition of the staunches opponents of the initiative and referendum. The proposal originally introduced in the form of the perfect Wisconsin plan, was changed in the last hours of the 1913 legislative session.

The defeat in the proposal, according to sincere I. and I. advocates, it is its provision for the legislative to out the amendment into operation and its demand for a 20% voters petition.

The two other amendments voted on today were likely to pass, authorizing county bondages on the Gulf of Mexico to build sea walls and increasing the compensation of the legislature and extending the length of the regular session.

HOT CAMPAIGN MARKS WEST VIRGINIA FIGHT.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 3.—West Virginia balloted today for six representatives in the national House of Representatives—one from each of five districts and one at-large—and members of the state legislature. The Democrats claiming victory in the former were particularly optimistic and looked for much Republican support. The campaign was a hot one. In Logan county the Democratic was forced by writ of mandamus to give notice and register Republicans who charged that they were not permitted to list themselves during the regular registration. Policies were blamed for the "shooting up" of the homes of a number of negroes, in an alleged effort to frighten them away from the polls.

GERMAN SUBMARINE ESCAPES IN SAFETY

DEMOCRATS CONTENT BLAINE MEN SWING TO SUPPORT KAREL

Unusual Optimism Shown Today at State Democratic Headquarters in Milwaukee.

Unusual optimism was displayed at the state democratic headquarters in Milwaukee today where the claim was made that the Blaine strength in Milwaukee county was being turned almost solidly to the support of Karel. John Martin, chairman of the democratic state central committee, sent the following statement to the Gazette shortly before three o'clock:

"For the information of friends and your local press Karel's vote in Milwaukee county will exceed that of two years ago. The Blaine forces are voting almost solidly for Karel in order to defeat Philipp."

STUMBLES, DROWNS; WATER A FOOT DEEP

The body was found in the gutter on Hanover street, a few feet from the Bernam street crossing. His head was against the curbstone and his clothes saturated with water.

The coroner believes that Conrad may have stumbled while making his rounds and fallen into the rushing torrents of water.

WAR CLOUD CLOUDED IN POLAND'S ARENA

It is not even known as yet whether these engagements have assumed important proportions. The Austrians are still pressing forward in the region between Stary-Sambor and Turka.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

UNCLE SAM SILENT ON SHIP POLICIES WITH THE ENGLISH

Washington Has Yet to Show Attitude in Copper Boat Controversy—Boats Sail?

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Nov. 3.—The state department has not yet defined its attitude toward the British contention, of the right of the removal from an American ship of its German or Austrian reservists and it was said of the department today that not until a specific case arises will there be any declaration of policy on the subject. So far while the British authorities have removed some of these reservists from American ships, the action has been taken in harbors within the territorial jurisdiction of Great Britain. Even in that case it has not been conceded by the department that this right of removal may be exercised beyond the taking off of passengers of a small portion of the crew. An American ship, the gunboat USS Albatross, is at London today, and the Italian vessels, an Giovanni and Regina D' Italia laden with American copper and detained by British authorities at Gibraltar, have been permitted to proceed to their Italian destination, does not so state specifically.

Textile Factories May Have to Close Owing to Shortage of American Cotton.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Venice, Italy, via Paris, November 3.—Austrian textile manufacturers are greatly worried over the question of obtaining further supplies of cotton from America. They fear all their efforts will fail even though attempts have been made to obtain this commodity through neutral states.

The stock of cotton in Austria is sufficient to last only a few weeks, so that the situation in the mills is becoming desperate.

GERMAN SHELLS FAIL TO PREVENT REVIEW OF ALLIES' ARMIES

PRESIDENT POINCARE AND KING ALBERT REVIEW TROOPS AS GERMAN BOMBARD FURNES.

YPRES STORM CENTER

Emperor William's Forces Continue. Unsuccessful Attack in Attempt to Advance to the French Coast.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, Nov. 3.—A bombardment of Furnes, in Belgium, twenty-six miles southwest of Bruges, by the Germans, did not prevent the review there yesterday of the French and Belgian troops by President Poincare of France, King Albert of Belgium, and Alexandre Milerand, the French war minister.

While the shells of the German guns apparently directed against the railway station at Furnes, were exploding at frequent intervals, the president, king and war minister were in the neighborhood of Hotel De Ville. There the strains of the Marseillaise and the Brabanconne, the national airs of the two countries, which were given with much spirit, the soldiers of Franco and Belgians passed by. All the men displayed great enthusiasm.

Confer With Albert.

Later President Poincare, Minister Milerand and General Joffre had a long interview with the king, to whom the president expressed further admiration of the Belgians and whom he wished on behalf of France.

Before the review President Poincare and his party paid their respects to Queen Elizabeth of Belgium at the royal residence. On leaving, the president passed the afternoon among the French troops operating on the Ypres front.

President Poincare was in Dunkirk Sunday evening, where he saw Lord Kitchener, the British minister of war, and Premier Chas. De Broqueville.

Allies Withstand Attacks.

Confidence is growing here that the latest offensive movement of the Germans in Belgium whereby they hope to gain a clear ground to the French channel port, will fail.

All reports here are that the allies have successfully withstood the repeated and violent attacks. The official statement of the Belgian general staff indicates a shift in the scene of the German attack from the north coast where they hoped to break through the British hold the line. This region, it is declared, already has been the scene of violent attacks and counter attacks in which the allies have lost heavily. The expectation here is that the Ypres front now will be the storm center of the fighting for a time at least, as the German objective appears to be the route to St. Omer in the department of Tass Calais, twenty-two miles southeast of the port of Calais.

Success in Vosges Region.

The news of the French success around St. Marie-Aux-Mines, Argonne, Die, in the Vosges region, was eagerly received here. The developments in this quarter assured the French of a solid position in a difficult region where it is expected they will shortly win a greater success.

President Poincare's visit to the battlefield in West Flanders, where at Furnes, while practically under fire, he and King Albert of Belgium reviewed the French and Belgian troops, caused some fear for his safety, but also admiration for his bravery. The president and Belgian king together with the French minister of war, Alexandre Milerand, and the British minister of war, Lord Kitchener, were from the town hall at Furnes, while a short distance away the railway station was under the heavy shell fire of the German artillery.

French Official Announcement.

The French official announcement given out this afternoon says that the Germans would appear to have completely abandoned the left bank of the Yser. The French and Belgian troops of the allies have re-occupied points on the river without great difficulty. The text of the communication follows:

"On our left wing the enemy seems to have abandoned the left banks of the Yser down stream from Dixmude and reconnoissances by troops of the allies have made some progress in the inundated regions where successful in re-occupying points of passage across the river without great difficulty."

In the south of Dixmude and in the direction of Gheluvit our advance was particularly perceptible. In the region to the north of the Yser in spite of determined attacks by the Germans in considerable force our front was everywhere maintained or re-established by the end of the day.

"French attack on the Germans on the environs of Arras and Against Lille. The Quosnoy-Bu-Santere resulted in failure."

In Alsace Region.

"On the center in the region of the Alsace to the east of the forest of Argonne we have made some progress. To the east of Vailly, according to the latest news, those of our troops who held the positions on the slopes of the plateaus to the north of the villages of Clavonne and Loupiac had been compelled to draw back in the valley to the east of this location. We have maintained positions on Amont on the right banks of the river."

"During the day between Rheims and the Meuse as well as on the heights of the Meuse."

"Further efforts on the part of the Germans in the forest of Argonne have been checked. We have continued to make progress to the north-west of Pont-Aux-Moussons."

"On our right wing there have been some engagements favorable to our arms along the river Selle."

TITLE HINGES ON BELOIT-LAWRENCE BATTLE SATURDAY

Great Contest Is Expected at Beloit,
When Old Rivals Again Clash
For Supremacy in State.

With a 9 to 6 defeat in mind received at the hands of the Lawrence football eleven at Appleton last fall, when all hope went wrong, the Beloit college eleven, under the able leadership of Captain Tracy and Coach Dana Evans, are getting into action this week for the hardest stage of practice ever experienced by any Line City eleven in past years. The coming game on Saturday at Beloit between the Gold Warriors, and the worthy foe from the north tutored by Catlin, will decide the championship of the secondary colleges in Wisconsin. Beloit college is wild over the coming struggle and if predictions are to be taken as any criterion, Beloit will give Catlin's men a hard rub, and may take the game away from the more experienced collegians under the leadership of Captain Walter Tippet.

Assuming that Lawrence can trim Ripon, the game Saturday will be one in which the state title is at stake. Beloit's victory over the Ripon team last Saturday, 14 to 0, when Edler scored two touchdowns on triple passes, gives them renewed confidence in the battle that is to come. Edler is Beloit's star player, formerly of Janesville, will be the dangerous man on the Gold eleven. On the other hand, Captain Tippet, of the Lawrence squad, and a former Janesville youth, together with Abrahamson, make up Lawrence's tower of strength in the backfield, and are the men Beloit will fear most. "Shorty" Wilkinson, who resides in this city, will play tackle of the Methodist squad Saturday. Consequently, old Janesville players will be opposing each other in the big title conflict.

Opponents pick Lawrence to win, much in the same way as they picked Chicago to defeat Wisconsin last week. Beloit is green, while Lawrence has practically the same team that won the title for them last year. But despite these facts, the Beloit team is encouraged because the game is to be played on their home gridiron. Nothing could satisfy them more. Two years ago, they trimmed the northerners and being underrated, solely because they had enthusiasm with them on their own field. As Edler and Tippet play right tackle positions on the Beloit and Lawrence teams respectively, a royal battle between these two men can be looked for. Considerable difficulty

DISPUTED TITLE CAN ONLY BE DETERMINED

Many High School Football Teams in Wisconsin are Fighting for Title That Cannot be Won.

The Wisconsin state high school football situation as it stands following Saturday's struggles in Badgerdom, bring into light three teams that may be counted on as being the strongest aspirants for the title in the state. Oshkosh, although beaten by Appleton, may be still reckoned with, when the disputed title is regarded as settled. Taking it for granted that the high school football championship in a state cannot be brought about in a season, a team that claims the title, has nothing to show that she has gained the coveted goal, other than a good record. Wisconsin annually has scores of teams holding brilliant records. There are many teams in the state every season that play through their schedule without suffering a defeat, and if a title were to be settled, without any dispute arising, it would take more than one season, and possibly two. Hence, a two year high school championship might possibly be brought about, after careful planning and arranging of games, between the gridiron critics and title contenders.

Taking the situation as it stands today, there are about twenty teams in the state that are strong, and claim sectional championships. Richland Center in the central section, has beaten Madison, and claim a sectional honor. Madison and Beloit are laying claim to the southern title, while Appleton and Oshkosh are leaders in the northeastern division. La Crosse, Tomah, Portage, Reedsburg, Green Bay, Ashland and other schools lay certain claims. They have a right to, as no definite program has ever been formulated by critics, by which a state title may be determined. A claim to a state title may be made

Sport Snap Shots

Balked in his efforts to find a high class lightweight match Thanksgiving day, Tom McCarey, Los Angeles promoter, now wants to put on Johnny Kilbane and Abe Attell on that date. He has them matched for a twenty-round contest, but figured on using them in December. Kilbane's injured thumb is slowly healing and it is not certain that he will be ready to fight by Thanksgiving.

Washington & Jefferson will have to be reckoned with when it comes time to announce the makeup of the All-American eleven. Spiegel, Fleming and Goodwin all gave excellent accounts of themselves in the 13 to 7 triumph over Yale. The W. & J. men were equally efficient at the open game as the Plis. After the performances of Yale against Notre Dame at this style of play, it was expected that they would work wonders against W. & J. But Bob's proteges did not encounter much difficulty in breaking up Yale forward passes and registered both their touchdowns via the forward pass route. Folwell has a wonderful collection of gridiron performers this season.

Though only 25 of the 326 players who figured in the American and National league races of 1912, the last year of the old ball war, still remain in the majors, a team composed of these veterans would be capable of holding its own in any struggle. The all-star veteran team would line up in this way: Mathewson, Plank, Hess, pitchers; Bresnahan and Doolin, catchers; Lajoie, first base; Evers, second base; Wagner, shortstop; Wallace, third base; Callahan, left field; Leach, center field; Crawford, right field. All these players have been in the game upward of 14 seasons and are rated far above the average in intelligence, which doubtless accounts for their remaining in the game so long. The manager could be selected from McGraw, Jones, Griffith, Chance, Jennings, Clarke and Robinson.

Parke H. Davis was coach of the Lafayette eleven in 1908. Fielding H. Yost was Mr. Davis' left tackle. Parke H. Davis gave Yost his first big lessons in football. Today Yost is recognized as the wizard of coaches and Davis is known as the greatest expert writing on the king college sport. He is a member of the intercollegiate rules committee and although a lawyer by profession, nearly all his time is taken up with the study of football or writing on the fine points of the game.

You can get a good idea of how long Plank and Matty have been at it by casting an eye over catchers they have had. Jack Warner, Frank Bowerman, Roger Bresnahan, Chief Meyers and Larry McLean are among those who have handled the delivery of Mathewson, while Plank has been handled by Powers, Schreck, Lapp, Thomas and Schaag among other backstops.

Some statistician has discovered that Dick Rudolph's first major league game (he was then a Giant) was twirled against the Boston team. The date was September 30, 1910, and he performed for but one inning, in which he allowed one run and two hits.

Texas, which temporarily was eclipsed by Florida as a spring training camp, seems to be getting back on the map again. The St. Louis Browns will train at Houston, and it is reported that the Cardinals will also select a point in southern Texas.

Johnny Griffith, Akron light-weight, received only a draw in a 20-round fight with Herb McCoy, the first boxer he met in Australia, but he carried the decision according to W. F. Corbett, a Sydney boxing critic. Corbett, in a report sent to this country, gives Griffith credit for showing the best left hand that has been displayed in Sydney for some time.

Although Buffalo fans were dissatisfied with the work of Hal Chase, the former Yankee first baseman finished the season with a batting average of .354 in 75 games.

Dutch Zwilling, the White Sox castoff, was the champion home run climber in the Federal league. He poked 16 circuit clouts over the fence for the Chieft.

AD WOLGAST BREAKS ARM IN THE EIGHTH

Freddie Welsh Retains Title of World's Champion Lightweight
Pugilist After New York Bout.

New York, Nov. 2.—Freddie Welsh of England, world's champion lightweight pugilist, defeated Ad Wolgast of Cadillac, Mich., former holder of the title. Monday night Referee Roche stopped the bout in the eighth round when Wolgast complained a small bone in his right arm was broken.

A doctor who examined the injury announced that the ulna bone was fractured. Wolgast said he never before had any trouble with his right arm.

During the seventh it was seen that Wolgast was not using his right hand, and in the eighth Welsh gave him a merciless drubbing. A smashing right unpercut sent Wolgast to the ropes and Welsh was pounding him with both hands at the bell.

Wolgast returned to his corner with his right arm limp at his side. The referee examined the injury and stopped the bout.

Interest now centers in the bout between Welsh and Charlie White, which is scheduled at Milwaukee on Nov. 9.

Amusements

AT MYERS THEATRE.

"A Star Since Boyhood."

Frederic Santley, the principal player in "When Dreams Come True," which comes to Myers Theatre tonight, has been a star nearly all his life. He began his stage career, when only three years old, playing "wee kiddies" of both sexes. He was fair with long yellow ringlets, so it was a simple matter for him to portray a boy or a girl, in changing plays at a moment's notice. Three or four years later, little Fred transformed himself into "America's Greatest Boy Actor," in "A Boy of the Streets," and from this it was but a step to the star role in "From Rags to Riches" which to other managers gaining in experience until now he has become one of the most finished musical comedy juvenile men on the stage today.

Coming Vaudeville.

No doubt the greatest animal act ever shown in Pittsburgh, was seen at the opening of The Grand Theatre last evening, consisting of one white horse and four beautiful white dogs—a story of the hunt as white and silent as the snow.—Pittsburgh Press.

The above act will be seen in connection with two others at Myers Theatre week-end vaudeville, Friday, Saturday and Sunday this week.

AT THE APOLLO.

A crowded house was more than pleased with the production of "My Official Wife" last night. A feature that lent more than usual attractiveness to the pictures was the violin playing of Miss Anna Mielch, concert violinist, who is playing a special engagement here this week. She is a beautiful player and extracts all the sweet tenderness of the violin. Miss Mielch will render a solo at each performance tonight and will also augment the orchestra by her presence during the show.

"The Jungle" Tonight

A terrific fight on a runway over a herd of stampeding cattle, in which a man is thrown to seeming death; the making of sausage, with all the inside information accurately shown; the rescue of the despondent girl from a death in the river; the fall of a man into a vat of boiling lard; here is but a few of the stirring scenes which go to make "The Jungle" a production which goes down among the best of the day. Upton Sinclair, the author, personally appears in the film, and with him George Nash, late star of "The Gamblers" and "Omber 666," and Gail Kane, the star of "Seven Keys to Baldpate." The balance of the cast has been selected with the usual All Star painstaking.

"The Jungle" is being presented today only and to adults only.

"The Wolf."

Eugene Walter, author of "Paid in Full" and other successes, produced a wonderful play in "The Wolf" that was possibly the greatest triumph of all. The stage production was produced perfect, but adding the possibilities of immense natural stage settings of the motion pictures, it is greater than ever. "The Wolf" will be seen at the Apollo in five acts on Wednesday.

accept the vernacular, was "some play."

At one time during the course of the play the young hero gravely cautioned females in general, and one in particular, to "beware the man who speaks of love, and not of marriage vows."

"From Rags to Riches" returned for an entire season and was pretty much appreciated everywhere and young Santley built up a fine reputation.

Shortly afterwards Santley entered the field of Western drama in a play called "Lucky Jim," in which he scored another success. Other plays followed until Fred outgrew the "boy actor" period. During this time young Santley was attracting attention. He was light and graceful and full of that elusive something called personality that makes actors. Theatrical managers began taking note of the youthful actor and before long he found himself under engagement to Mort Sinner for an important part in "A Modern Eve."

Frederic Santley has now become a dress clothes actor, who sang finely, danced with grace, and played his love scenes well. From Mort Sinner's management he moved on to LOOK around you, man—listen to your friends saying that "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew.

Go buy a pouch, and you too will begin boosting.

Taste and substance make all the difference between mere jaw exercise and the satisfying chew. Rich, sappy tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco causes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

GAZETTE TO RECEIVE CONTRIBUTIONS FOR SUFFERING BELGIUM

MILLIONS OF HOMELESS MUST HAVE IMMEDIATE FINANCIAL AID.

SUPPLIES ARE NEEDED

Money Can Be Left at Gazette Office or One of the Various Receiving Stations to Be Forwarded.

In view of the countless appeals both national and local which have been made to American sympathy in behalf of the war, one can only plead the immense number of appeals of the Belgian tragedy to warrant the addition of still another to the list. And the poignant sorrow of the situation is not lessened by the thought that the sum total of all the funds collected here and in Europe can only be a very small part—so vast and increasing is the need—assuage the sufferings of Belgium's unhappy people, who are money contribution whatever can be made for the relief of the suffering.

It is estimated that close upon two million people with breaking hearts have fled from their homes, leaving shattered homes and hopes behind. The flight of the innocent, the unfortunate, the women and children, the aged and helpless, from their fatherland, presents one of the most appalling pictures of human misery in the annals of history, ancient or modern. Tens of thousands have already found a home in England, and other thousands are in Holland, and still other unnumbered thousands are wandering in France. The record of misery compiled from imperfect statistical information is still far from complete, but it may be said with absolute certainty that the suffering is still more appalling than the record. In Europe there are still many thousands of families in actual want. And the number tends rather to increase than to diminish. It is for these distressed ones we make special appeal to one and all to send money as a special gift from America. Such a gift will surely be remembered by the beneficiaries long after the war has ended, and the Thanksgiving and Christmas Day will be the less happy because in some cases the gift may entail some measure of personal sacrifice.

Believing that the residents of Janesville and Rock county are most anxious to do their part in this great work of charity, the Gazette plans to receive subscriptions for the fund for the suffering Belgians and the money thus raised will be forwarded to some responsible charitable organization to be used for their immediate benefit. The money may be left at the Gazette office or at one of the various receiving stations throughout the city where subscriptions are accepted. It is a good cause and deserves the earnest support of citizens.

CIVIC LEAGUE URGES NEED OF REST ROOM

SUCH A PLACE WOULD BE VALUABLE ASSET TO CITY CLUB WOMEN CONTENT.

OTHER WORK PLANNED

Cleaner "Movies" and Elimination of the Smoke Nuisance Discussed at Monthly Meeting.

Do you want a rest room in Janesville? If so join the civic league and help advance the movement. Or if you belong to too many clubs already and feel that you haven't time for more, you can give the league your financial aid in carrying out this project.

The importance and necessity of a public rest room is one of the principal matters of discussion at the November meeting of the civic league at the city hall Monday afternoon. Mrs. John R. Nichols and the members of the committee reported that they have looked up several available sites and are anxious to start a campaign to secure such an institution for Janesville.

Mrs. Nichols, who recently visited the rest room at Beloit, explained the details of its workings, and what a success it is proving. Mrs. G. H. Hummel also told of the Beloit center and its value to the citizens and visitors from out of town. Mrs. Goodwin told of her visit to the White-water rest room which is enjoyed and appreciated by the people there.

Miss Helen Veltz read the following relative to the sort of an institution at Eau Claire:

"Several activities among the many beneficial projects that have been set on foot by the Eau Claire Women's Club have been the first one in Wisconsin. This room has continued to increase in usefulness and efficiency and during the last year the register shows about 13,000 visitors. The aim is to afford a place where people from out of town may rest, eat their lunches, and exchange ideas and also to establish a closer relationship between the people of the country and those of the city."

The use of the room is free the expense being met by the business men of the city, together with an annual appropriation from the Eau Claire women's club and an occasional contribution from the country districts.

The rest room contains a small library and magazines and papers contributed by women of the city.

There was a large attendance at the meeting yesterday and every member showed an eager interest in the work. Mrs. J. S. Taylor, chairman of the meeting, made the opening address in which she urged cooperation on the part of all members of the league for the work to be accomplished during the coming winter.

The chairman of each of the committees reported by the plans outlined. The committee on Sanitation is considering the volumes of smoke that daily roll over the city, causing damage to the property of those who live in its path. If those who are affected by this nuisance want relief, consult with the members of this committee and they will tell you how it can be obtained.

The chairman who is looking after the streets, alleys and parks reported that she asked one of the councilmen what was needed to be done along those lines. He said: "Have the women see that their door is not raked. I visited a neighboring city recently and scarcely a leaf was to be seen on the ground. It was surprising how clean it made that city look."

The committee on education is working to raise the standard of the moving pictures. The proprietors of the various theaters have tried to do this but they have to satisfy what the public demands. One proprietor claims that when he shows films of educational value the spectators are few. Many went out of the city to see the moving pictures in which their favorite actor, James Cruze, took the part of Joseph and was supported by a good company, was not a paying reel. An appeal is made to the people to give this work their support. Remember, it is being done to help the children.

One proprietor claims that when he shows films of educational value the spectators are few. Many went out of the city to see the moving pictures in which their favorite actor, James Cruze, took the part of Joseph and was supported by a good company, was not a paying reel. An appeal is made to the people to give this work their support. Remember, it is being done to help the children.

FINANCIAL EXPERT FAVORS OPENING OF STOCK EXCHANGES

Sir George Paish.

Sir George Paish, the English financial expert now in this country as a representative of the British treasury department conferring with officials at Washington, advocates the opening of the American stock exchanges and has so informed the committee controlling the affairs of the New York stock exchange, and the governing committee of the cotton exchange. He believes the liquidation of American securities held by Englishmen will be small when the time comes to resume market operations, and that American financial resources will not be injured in the absorption of such offerings.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

PAINTING THE HOUSE.

There are many things that even after painstaking effort to get the other fellow's point of view, I simply cannot understand. And one is why people paint their houses pink of blue.

In an ideal location, nestled in among the fir trees on a beautiful upland road which I frequently traverse, is a small, old-fashioned house. No, I take back that word "nestled." It doesn't nestle, it shrinks away from the firs and they from it, for the house is painted a bright salmon pink.

The road is a favorite drive on which we always take our visitors, and I do not think of it as a surprise and distaste at that unfortunate house. Yet someone must have admired it, else it would not have been painted that miserable color.

The whole question of house painting is a very interesting one to me. I think the color and paint condition of a house has more to do with its power to attract or repel than any other single factor. The girl with nondescript features but a fresh, pretty color is usually hailed as a pretty girl by the casual observer; whereas the girl with well cut features but a pale or muddy skin is passed by without notice. And so it is with houses. The thoughtful observer may appreciate good lines, but the casual passerby will never be attracted to a house if its fine lines are obscured by ugly or dingy paint.

Of course, the whole question of painting is a question of personal preference. Yet there are canons of good taste and of bad taste here as in everything.

Personally I like a white house best. "Paint it white," is always my cry. But a letter from a friend whom I have been discussing this subject presents a point of view which is worth considering.

"Don't paint your house white unless the lines are perfect—it will look like a tombstone. And don't cut the windows of a dark house with white. That is a common error and is so ugly. If they do not plumb a window is not generally a thing of beauty in shape; why should each one be outlined and strike the eye first. It is like sewing the seams of a black dress with white cotton—they must be perfectly straight, and even then, who wants to see the shape of the seams?"

Anything that blends with the outside world is right for a house color. The harmonious shades of brown and green, and of course that exquisite shade of gray which weather worn shingles assume, will make a house become a graceful and rightful part of the landscape instead of standing stiffly aloof from it.

Though space presses I cannot close without including another hint which my letter friend, a woman of wide experience in home-making, passes on.

"Tramp in the path," she says, in regard to the color to paint the piazza floor, "and scrape your shoes on the porch floor—then have the painter match the color so that every careless person's footprints will not show."

mix raisins), and add to first mixture. Add raisins last.

Apple Sauce Cake—One and one-half cups apple sauce, while hot add: one cup sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half cup flour, one-half cup raisins, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one teaspoon soda, flour to thicken rather stiff. Bake one hour in moderate oven.

Apple Sauce Cake—One and one-half cups apple sauce, two cups brown sugar, one-half cup butter, two and one-half cups flour, one-half cup nutmeg, two teaspoons cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, one cup raisins, one teaspoon soda. Cream butter and sugar, add raisins and spices to apple sauce, then add to batter and sugar, then flour, and last the soda dissolved in a little water.

An Excellent Meat Loaf—To 30 cents' worth of ground beef and pork add one small onion chopped very fine, two slices toasted bread (which has been soaked in milk) and season well with pepper and salt. Mix thoroughly, put in greased bread tin and bake slowly one hour.

Bread and Butter Crisps—For these a square loaf of fresh cream bread is necessary. Remove all the crust, butter one end of bread and cut off the thinnest possible slice, butter again and cut another slice, and so on, until sufficient slices have been cut. Roll slices closely and fasten with wooden toothpick. Place on a tin plate and brown in oven.

Have You the Hair of a Musician?

Bald or thin-haired musicians are unknown. This same may be said of actors. The reason is that constant appearance before the public makes constant care of appearance a habit. And constant care of hair insures a heavy, attractive growth. In cleansing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of cambric from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

Remove toothpicks before serving either hot or cold.

Orange Pie—One cup sugar, six level tablespoons cornstarch, one tablespoon butter, yolks of two eggs using whites for you. Juice of one or two oranges and a little grated rind. Mix sugar and cornstarch, add boiling water and butter, cook few minutes, stirring constantly, then add orange juice and rind. Put this in a baked crust and cover with two whites of eggs beaten stiff with four tablespoons sugar and a little flavoring. Brown lightly in quick oven.

Every Day Talks To Every Day People

BY FRANCES JOYCE KENNEDY.

A woman who thought she was poor, who thought she had no friends, who thought she had no future, who thought she was a life-long friend of hers. She was a good talker. Listening, if you were not in the ground floor as to the real condition of her home life you would have experienced a wave of pity surging through you for the life that was, seemingly, being spent in going against insurmountable barriers.

The listening friend, a woman who had lived and learned, sat with thoughtful face and slightly bowed head through the somewhat petulant recital. The speaker was stating facts. Of that the older woman was aware. And yet, so often facts can be made to suit our fancy, by our changeable recitation of the same.

After a time the voice of the younger woman trailed off into silence. Twilight was gathering in and fantastic shadows from a grate fire flickered low, then, as if in unison with the speaker's mood, faded high, throwing their bright light across the room.

"Yes! You have trouble," spoke the gentle-faced woman. "But don't you know, dear, that when I hear you talk in this strain I feel so sorry for you. Sorry for the reason that you are losing so much that makes life of the average woman worth the living, by your allowing your mind to dwell on your troubles; by remembering all your sorrows and forgetting all your joys. We all of us, no matter where in life our lot may lie, meet trouble. Money, or the lack of it, is no proof that we are immune from or bound to meet this bugaboo who at one time or another enters the lives of most mortals.

"You must learn to count your mercies. If you have not this certain thing that you think necessary to your happiness, console yourself with the thought that neither have you that handicap; that you have a comfortable home, a fine family and a good husband.

"Young people are so anxious to forge ahead that they think they should accomplish almost miraculous results. If they do not, they promptly begin to brood and think themselves much abused, misunderstood and a lot more undesirable things."

The younger woman was sitting with thoughtful face and bowed head now. "You know," continued the voice of her friend, "that a surgeon's knife will cut to cure. So many things here in your home I see wherein you fail. You are letting some golden opportunities slide by. Opportunities that will not return to you again. You worry for great things to do. Think how long the mighty oak was in changing from the modest little acorn. Then so, you and I. You have your home to keep. Think how many, many women in this world of ours today would gladly change places with you—could she. Then again: Think of the crying need of our own country. Children raised in the right sort of homes, children trained to carry within their hearts that law-abiding instinct that neither time, place, nor temptation can change. If that be infused into a growing child's heart our country will have a place for him. He, or she, will be a citizen which any community will want to claim. Is that no task for you?"

"The lives of most of us are made up of trifles—so few comes the call to higher habits and glorious deeds. Daily, in our everyday lives we can shed around us a light that time can hardly dim. I speak from experience," concluded the little old lady. "Be mindful of your chances and your chances all have fled."

"Yoo-ooh, yoo-ooh! Mama!"

A sturdy boy rushed into the room from school and climbed into his mother's lap. Across his curly head the eyes of the two women met.

GRAY HAIR TURNS BACK TO RIGHT COLOR

How to Restore Natural Shade—No One Will Know You're Using Anything.

Prominent druggists in town report that most unusual results are now being accomplished in restoring natural color to gray hair. The famous "Gray Hair" cream, which is sold in bottles of 25c, 50c and $1.00, is now being used by thousands of men and women who are rescued from the embarrassment of premature grayness.

It is a fact that the hair of the young is not a dead tissue. It does its work solely by natural means. It causes the oxygen in the air to so act upon the hair that it gradually but surely changes back to the lustrous dark shade it was before becoming gray.

Yes, ladies, gray hair is now a thing of the past. It is your own fault if you continue to let it fade, streaked, thin, and falling out. The "Gray Hair" cream will need to be applied this fine and hairless preparation and nature will make you young again. The most particular ladies of the town, and men, too, are using it, but you do not know it, for unlike drugs, Gray's Hair Health works in a way that tells no one.

All druggists sell it in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles and are authorized by the manufacturer, Philip H. Sparrow Company, Newark, N. J., to refund full price to any purchaser not entirely pleased and satisfied.

The Wife's Money

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

"Frank, I have been thinking how much I could help you, if I took a position as stenographer, for a year or two, until we get our home nearly or quite paid for. I believe Mr. Frost would take me gladly," said Mrs. Sutton as she beat up the pillows and put them in the sun to dry.

"What, put that in your head?" asked Mr. Sutton, as he stropped his razor.

"Mary Oliver was here yesterday and she said her sister who works there is going to be married, so the place will be vacant."

"Now, look here Julia, I think I am still able to support my family, and I want to know why I am married. What kind of a home would either of us have with you working?" and he laughed at her face fiercely.

"I could get our breakfasts. You would be no change, and we could meet and so somewhere for dinner, then come home and have our evening together. That Oliver girl gets $75 per month. That Oliver as well, we could put it right on the home in a lump."

Sutton was making hideous faces at himself in the glass, so his wife could not tell what effect his argument was producing. As she stopped for a reply, he turned and looked at her, still holding himself by the nose.

"Now, look here Julia, if you aren't satisfied with what I am able to do for you, I'm sorry, but when I tell you that at all," she interrupted. "It's only that two people can earn more money than one and we decided to pay for our home before we had any children because it seemed safer to have something to fall back on, and I have the ability to help."

"It would sound fine! Our friends would say: 'Frank Sutton must be falling down.' He has his wife had to take a position as stenographer to keep things running. It's lucky for him he got a wife who could support herself. If you would enjoy such talk, I wouldn't," and he snapped his safety razor into its case and gave his face some vicious slaps with the lotion on his fingers.

"I do not believe we are so important that it would make much of a stir in the world whatever we did," the wife replied. Our intimate friends would know just why I was working. If we started to tell them, and what can it matter what other people think, if we are living our lives to suit our selves?" she answered as she hung the last garment in the closet.

"We wouldn't be leaving our lives as we want to, if I did not. Do you know where there is an extra collar button? It is the strangest thing where three buttons get to."

"Here it is," she said, holding up your collar when you picked it up," she said, handing it to him.

"Thank you," and he threw his head back and worked his mouth violently, and then gave his head a few more mental twists to be sure that the collar was safely anchored. When the crucial moment was safely past she resumed the conversation.

"You think this proposition over until tonight," she said while he wrestled with the four-in-hand. "It does not have to be decided offhand. I don't believe a married woman earning money. It makes them too blamed independent. It's an unnatural thing. The wife should be dependent on her husband. I've seen enough of it in the fellows who married rich wives. A man's a fool who will do it, and this is a piece of the same thing. A woman looks down on a man who does it. I've seen enough of him," he said, brushing his hat as if he were doing floors.

"I had not idea you felt so strongly about it," said his wife in a mollifying tone. "I only wanted to help. We'll say nothing more about it," and she kissed him good-by.

MRS. THUMSUN TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—MRS. THUMSUN, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Cut the Cords that bind you to your kitchen

Come down tomorrow and see a graphic picture of conditions that apply in kitchens that lack Hoosier convenience. The whole story is in our window.

The Hoosier Cabinet

Puts your whole kitchen at fingers' ends, and cuts your work in two. We'll put one in your home tomorrow

For a Single Dollar

We started Monday to explain the new HOOSIER PLAN by which we are permitted to sell a few of these famous cabinets on surprising terms.

Most of Them Are Already Taken

This plan differs from any other on which furniture was ever sold. Note the details:

- One dollar puts any Hoosier you select in your home.
- One dollar weekly dues quickly pays for it.
- The low cash price fixed by the factory prevails absolutely.
- The sale is under direct supervision of the Hoosier Company.
- When this allotment is taken, the sale closes.
- If you are not delighted with your cabinet we will gladly refund your money.

When you think of the miles of steps this cabinet saves you every day, can you daily postpone looking at these cabinets until it is too late to enroll? The time is getting short. Come in tomorrow and look at these Hoosiers. You place yourself under no obligation.

YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO BUY, unless you realize yourself the need of this cabinet for your home. But if you do not enroll, remember, some other woman will enjoy the privilege that is now yours if you enroll tomorrow.

Nothing you have ever seen will save you so much labor in your kitchen, if you act tomorrow.

Heart and Home Problems

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS. Dear Mrs. Thompson: A number of boys have formed a walking club and we plan to take a long walk every week, usually Saturday or Sunday. We want to give an outdoor party and invite our girl friends. What should we serve?

THE BOYS. That is a jolly idea. Serve nothing that you will need to have help in setting. Make a one bottle and when you have a good bed of coals put in a couple of potatoes for each guest, wrapped in wet clay which is a inch thick, cover with coals, make a good fire and serve them and in three-quarters of an hour—for medium-sized potatoes—in a few minutes they will be done.

Drag them out with a big stick, strike the mud shell and it will crumble away. Open the potato at one end and eat it out of the shell with a spoon, putting in salt and pepper as you proceed. Make coffee, get rolls and wieners, roast the latter over the fire on forked sticks, cut the bun open and spread the wieners out inside, making a delicious sandwich. Some people prefer bacon roasted over the fire and made into sandwiches. Both are fine. Doughnuts would be cake enough, but of course, pickles and cheese would be a more complete menu. A lunch of this kind is much more fun than any elaborate preparations. If you take a pepper and corn, it makes a delightful ending to the feast to sit about the fire, pop corn and tell stories.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I received a letter from a young man not long ago and my father got it out of the box and opened it. He got it if it was corresponding with boys he wanted to know what it was about. Has he any right to do this? ANGRY.

It is the privilege of every person to open his own mail. He has no legal right to touch your letters and such a course. Probably he has your best interest at heart. Try having a plain respectful talk with him, telling him how you feel about it and ask him to respect your letters. If you can, hand him your letters to read after you have read them, to show him you have nothing to conceal.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have several warts on my head and would like to have a remedy that will not hurt the hair. I am eleven years old. How should I wear my hair and how long should my dresses be? Will tan serge trimmed in winter mesquite be suitable for a winter dress? G.

Nitric acid will remove warts, but as it is a deadly poison great care must be used if you try the remedy. Have someone put the acid on the warts with a toothpick and touch nothing but the wart. Sometimes a single application will remove it. Hair tied with ribbons on top of the head is usually becoming to girls of that age. If large, wear dresses to shoe tops. Size, not age, governs the length of dresses. I should think the dress very suitable.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is it necessary to make a party call after accepting an invitation to a party? A BEGINNER.

It seems a very courteous thing to do. If a person has gone to the trouble to give a party and given pleasure to a number of friends, the least they can do to it call and show her that they appreciate her efforts. It is a good plan for two or three young men to make a party call together. It makes it pleasant for all.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please advise me as to the best way to remove stains from a mattress. That is hard to do, but the following has been effective in some instances: Wash dust out of spots and coat with a paste of starch and ammonia or starch and peroxide of hydrogen. Leave for two days, then sponge with peroxide and lay in sun to dry.

Household Hints

SOME APPLE RECIPES. Jellyed Apples—Chop apples; peel, core and moderately thin. Place in good-sized crockery dish in alternate layers of granulated sugar and fruit. Put in medium oven, and bake until top held down by a weight. They should remain in oven about three hours. When cool, turn carefully into a glass dish and put on the ice, when the slices will be found embedded in a clear jelly. With meringue on top, either with or without boiled custard or cream as sauce, a delightful variation of this dish may be served.

Stuffed Baked Apples—Cut out core and boil apples until skin loosens; remove skins and roll in hot butter. Chop up raisins and fill apples with raisins and sugar; put in oven until brown, take out, sprinkle apples with cocoanut, set back in oven to brown. Apples serve with milk or cream.

Apple Sauce Cake—One cup apple sauce, one teaspoon soda, one cup sugar, one cup seeded raisins, one half cup lard beaten light, two even cups flour (after being sifted), one teaspoon each of ground cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg, one tablespoon vanilla. Cream butter, add sugar. Mix soda in apple sauce and add to vanilla and sugar. Mix and sift flour and spices (reserving a little flour to

The law says regarding special tax violations:

Provided further, that in case of sale where the evidence of transfer is shown only by the books of the company the stamp shall be placed upon such books, and where the change of ownership is by transfer certificate the stamp shall be placed upon the certificate, and in cases of an agreement to sell or where the transfer is by delivery of the certificate assigned in blank there shall be made and delivered by the seller to the buyer a bill or memorandum of sale, to which the stamp shall be affixed, and every bill or memorandum of sale or agreement to sell before mentioned shall show the date thereof, the name of the seller, the amount of the sale and the matter or thing to which it refers."

Express and freight bills of lading must carry a one cent stamp.

Regarding newspapers the law says: "A consignment of newspapers to any one point or to different points by the same train or conveyance when included in one general bundle at the point of shipment shall be considered as one shipment, and in lieu of a bill of lading therefor the publisher of such newspaper shall file on or before the fifteenth day of each month with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which such newspaper is published a report under oath showing the number of such shipments during the preceding month, to which report such publisher shall affix and cancel stamps equal in value to 1 cent for each shipment so reported. Provided further, that the report herein required shall not include shipments of newspapers delivered to points within the county in which the same are published."

The penalty for failing to stamp bills of lading is a fine of $50.

Regarding telegraph and telephone messages, the law reads:

"It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation owning or operating any telegraph or telephone line or lines to make within thirty days after the expiration of each month a sworn statement to the collector of internal revenue in each of their respective districts, stating the number of dispatches, messages or conversations originated at each of their respective exchanges, toll stations or offices and transmitted thence over their lines during the preceding month for which a charge of 15 cents or more was imposed, and for each of such messages or conversations the said person, firm or corporation shall collect from the person paying for the message or conversation a tax of 1 cent in addition to the regular charges for the message or conversation, which tax the said person, firm or corporation shall in turn pay to the said collector of internal revenue of their respective districts."

The full text on insurance is:

Provided further that policies of reinsurance shall be exempt from the tax herein imposed by this paragraph."

"Each policy of insurance or bond or obligation of the nature of indemnity for loss, damage or liability issued or executed or renewed by any person, association, company or corporation transcending the business of fidelity, employer's liability, plate glass, steam boiler, burglary, elevator, automatic sprinkler or other branch of insurance, except life, personal accident and health insurance and insurance described and taxed or exempted in the preceding paragraph and excepting also workmen's compensation insurance carried on by the members thereof solely for their own protection and not for profit, and each bond undertaking or recognizance, conditioned for the performance of the duties of any office or position or for the doing or not doing of anything therein specified or other obligation of the nature of indemnity, and each contract or obligation guaranteeing the validity or legality of bonds or other obligations issued by any state, county, municipal or other public body or organization or guaranteeing titles to real estate or mercantile credits executed or guaranteed by any liability, fidelity, guarantee or surety company upon the amount of premium charged, one-half of 1 cent on each dollar or fractional part thereof, provided that policies of reinsurance shall be exempt from the tax herein proposed by this paragraph."

Every seat sold in a palace or parlor car and every berth sold in a sleeping car, 1 cent, paid by the company.

Perfumery and Toilet Articles.

The stamp tax on perfumery, cosmetics and similar toilet articles ranges from one-eighth of one cent on each five cent package to five-eighths of one cent on each twenty-five cent package, and five-eighths of one cent for each additional 25 cents in value.

All perfumery, cosmetics, etc., which are in the hands of manufacturers or of wholesale or retail dealers on and after Dec. 1, 1914, "shall be subject to the payment of the stamp taxes herein provided for, but it shall be deemed a compliance with this act as to such articles on hand in the hands of wholesale or retail dealers as aforesaid who are not the manufacturers thereof to affix the proper adhesive tax stamp at the time the package, box, bottle, pot or phial or other inclosure with its contents is sold at retail."

For chewing gums, or substitutes, 4 cents for each $1 of value.

Any one who fails to comply with or evades the provisions of the new law must pay double the amount of the tax. Special penalties are provided for any fraudulent use of the war tax stamps whatsoever or for specific evasions.

The total sum of $400,000 is appropriated to collect the war taxes. The act takes effect at once, except where otherwise expressly provided, and will hold until Jan. 1, 1916.

GERMANS BIG FACTOR IN RHINE TERRITORY

THEIR INFLUENCE DATES BACK TO TIME WHEN GAUL WAS IN-HABITED BY CELTS.

REVIEWS THE HISTORY

Writer in Engineering Magazine Says
History May Decide Possession of Alsace-Lorraine.

H. H. Campbell, writing in the Engineering Magazine, has the following to say in regard to the Alsace-Lorraine controversy.

"By the treaty of Versailles, signed in 1871, France gave to Germany the two provinces that we call Alsace-Lorraine, but which the Germans have christened Elsass and Lothringen. This gave Germany a clear title to that territory, but France has ever since claimed that the cession was not because it was made under duress; and on the day the treaty was signed she started a cult that developed into a religion, and is expressed by the slogan 'Alsace must be redeemed.' This has been proclaimed in political speeches, in newspapers, and on the floor of the national assembly and there has been no secret about it. In every debate on military expenditures a comparison has been made with the army of Germany and everything openly planned in preparation for the great day."

"The French have based their argument about Alsace-Lorraine on history, and since the question will surely come up at the end of this war, no matter who wins, it may be well to condense into a few words the migrations, wars and political intrigues of two thousand years."

Celts Are Romanized.
In the early centuries of our era, the province of Gaul was inhabited largely by Celtic people who had attained a high degree of civilization under Roman rule. The schools were in many respects superior to those of Rome, while there were no bridges, aqueducts, and roads, which are triumphs of engineering skill."

"During the Roman period there were settlements of men who had served in the army and had been given a grant of land. In the course of time these Romans and the Gauls amalgamated to a great extent, and in that in later times we came to know as French. The Rhine was the eastern limit of the province; and notwithstanding several attempts of Rome to maintain a political influence east of that river, it was for hundreds of years the natural and actual boundary of the Roman empire. On the western shore of the Rhine there were general invasions of the German people and Roman civilization had been transferred to the water's edge."

Germania Crossed Rhine.
About five centuries ago Rome found it necessary to withdraw her troops from Gaul to protect the borders of Italy. Just at this time the Slavs were pressing into what is now Poland, and the German tribes took advantage of the withdrawal of the Roman troops and came over the river to find better homes for themselves. They knew all about the province to the west, for their young men had served in the Roman army and had brought back stories of a land where the climate and the fertile plains were far different from the inhospitable climate and forests of central Europe. So these Germans packed up all their belongings on their heavy ox-carts and started westward. In those days the Rhine was often frozen over in places where it does not freeze today, and frozen so solid that bands numbering thousands of people could cross it with heavy wagons. These armies of men, women and children spread all over what is now France; they wanted a better place to live, and if such a place was given to them without resistance they did little damage; but if they were resisted, they showed no regard for property or life."

"Then followed what today we would call anarchy, but which perhaps was not much worse than the conditions existing at the same time throughout the world. The invaders constituted the aristocracy of France for the next thousand years, and France, during that time, was the most civilized part of the world."

Finally Became Civilized.
The Germans had no schools, and as a consequence the old language became the language of the educated class and the German language died out. In the same way the Germans had no system of jurisprudence, they allowed the Gauls to carry their cases to the old Roman courts, and the Gauls, in the course of time, married to choose which court they preferred. An amalgamation proceeded and as the Roman law was immeasurably superior to the crude German tribal law, the German customs finally passed out of existence."

"France has a right to claim, as her own territory, all the area in which the Germans voluntarily gave up their customs, language and law, and even identity; but she has no right to claim territory where the Germans retained their language, their customs, and their laws. This was true of the territory near the Rhine for it was there that Charlemagne reigned. It is a pity that we know this man by his French name and the capital by his French name, Aix-la-Chapelle. He was a German, and just because the Franks gave their name to the country that they conquered, the French have no right to claim the city where the great German emperor built the cathedral that to this day serves as his memorial and tomb."

Scene of Warfare.
From the time of Charlemagne down almost to the present day, the Rhine district has been the seat of brigandage and constant war. The castles along the river tell their own story, but there have also been long periods when foreign troops devastated the whole region. At the beginning of the Thirty Years War the Palatinate had five hundred thousand population while at the end it had only fifty thousand. It was then that Louis XIV. bribed some Germans in Alsace. The people of that province were Germans and spoke German; they were not asked what they wanted, but it is certain they did not want to learn French or to be annexed to France. In the time that has gone by since then they have changed their minds and their language; it would be only fair we gave Germany two hundred and fifty years of unbroken possession to see whether the people will not change their minds again."

"Lorraine has not been joined to France as long as Alsace; her people were not consulted, nor were the people of the Rhine Province; but it is not on record that people in the past ever were asked to what country they wished to belong. It must be acknowledged that in this Rhine district there has never been any such feeling of nationality and patriotism as we find in Holland or Switzerland, but we must recognize that these people are of German descent and that they spoke German until they were transferred to France without their consent."

LOATH TO PART.
"You say your father's got a steady job?"
"You bet! He people he works for wouldn't let him go home for anything!"
"I'm glad to hear he is so appreciated. Where does he work?"

American Inventions Play Big Part in the European Struggle

New York, Nov. 3.—Whether they know it or not the European soldiers fighting the battles of the Kaiser, and the czar, the President and the Kings are using instruments of American invention or at least, arms which had their origin in the United States and which in some cases, have been improved abroad.

Colt, Gatling, Winchester, and Maxim are names familiar to every school boy when applied to revolvers, rifles and even to quick-firing guns of larger calibre. These are sloping instruments of American invention or at least, arms which had their origin in the United States and which in some cases, have been improved abroad.

Each one of these inventions worked under conditions which might be called romantic. None of them was brought about by a single man, but rather a way to kill many human beings at once—which is precisely the result achieved by the terrible engines of destruction today.

Dr. Gatling, for example, had a noble purpose in mind when he devised the rapid-fire which bears his name. It was during the Civil War, a regiment of worn out, starving soldiers was passing by. Gatling thought that he could invent a gun which would make many soldiers unnecessary by using one weapon to do the work of a hundred men. His machine-gun was the result. It could fire 1200 shots a minute but the United States government was just about to adopt a new military invention in 1861. It was not until Gatling's invention was thrown into the discard. But General Benjamin F. Butler bought twelve of them at his own expense and the successful use of them in 1862 led to the government to adopt the invention.

The Colt revolver had its origin on a sailing vessel which carried Samuel Colt, then a young man, to Calcutta in 1828. Colt was bored by the tedium of the voyage. To while the tedium he started whittling in the Yankee fashion and finally evolved the rough pattern of a revolver. When he got home, the States he followed up the idea. He submitted it to the government ten years later. The authorities at Washington laughed at him until General Zachary Taylor—like Butler in the Civil War—introduced a thousand of the weapons for his cavalry.

men, to be used in Mexico. Success followed and the Colt "gun" became famous in the world over.

Hotchkiss was riding in a railroad train in 1875 when the idea of the magazine rifle which bears his name came in his mind. Some years before he had devised the murderous Hotchkiss shells and a "revolving cannon." But the masterpiece he sketched in fifteen minutes on the margin of the newspaper he was carrying at the time. The value of that rifle was appreciated almost immediately for the government of this country, France and England adopted the weapon.

Although strictly speaking not an inventor, Winchester had enough mechanical ability to see possibilities in a "Volcanic" rifle which some unassuming Bay state genius evolved. Winchester founded the factory and capitalized the invention until today the Winchester rifle scarcely needs all the advertising which is given to it.

Perhaps the most versatile of the quintette of American firearms inventors is Hiram Maxim, who is not to be confused with his brother Hudson, another genius in the history of apparatus for the fine art of killing. Hiram's invention was given a bump in the right direction when he was bowled over by an old-fashioned muzzle-loading rifle. Like Newton, he profited by the blow and thought out a way to make use of the force. The Maxim-Nordenflet rapid-firing gun which makes the recoil serve as the power for reloading follows from his wonderful brain. He also invented the world famous cordite, a powerful smokeless powder.

These are but a few of the great names in the history of American military and naval inventions. One could stretch the list indefinitely by adding the names of Whitehead, the torpedo designer; Erickson, a naturalized American, who followed in the footsteps of his father, John, a Monitor; Hudson Maxim, an authority on explosives and inventor of many different kinds; Holland, the father of the submarine boats, which are now doing such extensive damage in the North sea, and many others whose lives were spent in bringing the arts of war to a high degree of perfection. Then by that strange irony which seems to be reversed in striking fashion during the war-times, it can be proven that American have given to the world the best protection against the bullets and shells of other Americans—the finest armor plate that is made anywhere.

HOG PRICES LOWER ON TODAY'S MARKET

Slump of Ten and Fifteen Cents Marks Trading This Morning.—Sheep Demand Poor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Nov. 3.—This was an off day on the hog market with a slump of ten and fifteen cents at the opening of trade. Receipts were estimated at 23,000 and bulk of sales ranged from $7.15 to $7.40. The sheep market was slow with prices slightly higher for high grade lambs. Following are quotations:

Cattle—Receipts 40,000; market steady. Heaves $8.00@11.00; Texas steers $7.00@9.40; stockers and feeders nominal; cows and heifers 3.80@5.40; calves 7.00@11.25.
Hogs—Receipts 33,000; market dull nominally 10c to 15c lower; light 7.00 @7.10; pigs 3.75@6.50; bulk of sales 7.15@7.40.

Sheep—Receipts 16,000; market slow, 10c@25c above yesterday's average; native 5.25@6.40; yearlings 6.25 @7.10; lambs, native 6.25@8.50.

Eggs—Unchanged; 5,936 cases.
Cheese—Unchanged; receipts 75 cases.
Potatoes—Unchanged; receipts 75 cases.

MONDAY'S MARKETS.
Chicago, Nov. 3.—Live stock prices yesterday were more uneven than usual, with the tendency higher. Early business in all branches was on a weak basis, but late in the day cattle generally sold 10c to 5c higher, hogs 10c above Saturday's average and lambs mostly 15c to 25c higher.

Quarantine restrictions had a weakening effect on early trade. A rumor that all railroads were to be closed to accept shipments for Chicago caused a boom in prices on good buying by packers. The rumor proved false and trade closed weak.

Receipts for today, owing to quarantine restrictions, are estimated at only 3,500 cattle, 15,000 hogs and 20,000 sheep, against 5,381 cattle, 22,727 hogs and 25,334 sheep a week ago and 5,489 cattle, 26,219 hogs and 27,380 sheep corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

Hogs Average Higher.
Average price of hogs at Chicago was $7.40, against $7.39 Saturday, $7.41 a week ago, $7.34 a month ago, $7.92 a year ago, $7.93 two years ago, and $6.22 three years ago. Monday's hog purchases follow:
